WAKE-UP CALLZ

SYNOPSIS

Somewhere in spacetime... an evil entity disguised as a comet circles the galaxies in search of memories, in search of souls, in search of Takeover. It came upon a planet whose people resisted the darkness and vowed to defeat the shadows in the future on the planet Earth.

...Years later, before the comet approached Earth, a science team was dispatched to implant infertile human females with alien DNA programmed to wake-up at a predetermined time and place. Somehow, the Comet Consciousness learned of the awakening and altered the timeline to prevent it.

In the shadow timeline, one of the alien special seeds Kristaya Turner, dreams of alternate realities and seeks the help of Doctor Dream. Aided by corrupt world leaders, the Comet Consciousness already controls most of Earth, whose willing participants don't suspect that their memories are being stolen through video games, and re-packaged for sale to galactic dealers.

The Allspace agent arrives during the darkest days, and must awaken Kristaya out of her shadow dream to see everything in a different light. The Power Protocols have intoxicated humanity into betraying their own people in the pursuit of greed and profit. No one knows their true fate as the timelines unfold into the Parallel Paradox. The What a Wonderful Worm snakes its way through the timelines and crashes the world's computer systems. Reality becomes a game show, and video games take center stage in the Crossroads of Crossover.

Kristaya must intervene before Memcorr uploads humanity's memories into the Comet Consciousness, and plunge Earth into the shadows forever. Kristaya's personal struggle is a path of enlightenment over darkness as she must discover her true identity and come to grips with her alien humanity. Only Doctor Dream knows what she's thinking... But, Total Takeover happens before you think...

PRODUCER'S PAGE

Wake-Up Callz is an independent HD movie that began in 2003 when Adrian Horodecky wrote an e-mail to the Amazing Kreskin reminiscing about a show he saw many years ago. He mentioned to Kreskin that they shared the same birthday of January 12. After a few more e-mails Adrian Horodecky designed some artwork for Kreskin, and began writing a script, which he presented to him on March 27, 2004 after a show in Rahway, NJ. Kreskin liked the partial script, and waited patiently for the completion. Cast as Doctor Dream, an alien psychiatrist, Kreskin was intrigued by the role from the very beginning...

The script was completed in early 2005 with Kreskin onboard. The crew was assembled, the locations were scouted, the website was created and the word went out through a video storyboard, and online casting calls. Wake-Up Callz was shot on location in NJ and PA from September 2005 to October 2006. Final editing was completed in June 2007. Kreskin is known as the "World's Foremost Mentalist", with the "Power of Suggestion" as his calling card. A unique aspect of Wake-Up Callz is the seamless integration of Kreskin's stage show into the story.

THE TWELVE TIDBITS

The Amazing Kreskin was born on January 12, 1935 - Adrian Horodecky was born on January 12, 1957. During their initial e-mails, Adrian mentioned that they shared birthdays and told him about his website – www.broadwayjoe.org – dedicated to Joe Namath (#12) and the NY Jets who won Super Bowl III on January 12, 1969 – his twelfth birthday. When Adrian went to see Kreskin in Rahway NJ to present a partial script of Wake-Up Callz, the assigned seat number was 112. The number also pops up the movie several times. Even the final running time came out to be 93 minutes. ...Coincidence or Connection?
